To whom it may concern,

This is a letter of recommendation for ReNew Partnerships.

I have had the privilege of observing ReNew in action over the course of the past several years, especially here in New York City. ReNew is one of the most effective models of multi-ethnic ministry I have encountered. I have known Chad Brennan for seven years and have worked with him on a variety of projects, including co-leading a missions trip to the Middle East. Chad, a ministry entrepreneur at heart, has developed a viable strategy for building bridges between ethnic groups and developing young ethnic men and women as spiritual leaders.

Ministries such as ReNew are absolutely essential for the future of the Church in North America. Either the Church will remain compartmentalized in disparate cultural communities, or it will undertake the arduous work of overcoming the barriers that keep it divided. Rather than waiting for others, ReNew has stepped in to fill this gap.

ReNew is strengthening the body of Christ by building bonds between diverse communities, and by creating contexts in which ethnic students are built as Christ-centered, servant leaders with a vision for the Church. ReNew is lending credibility to the Gospel message by visibly demonstrating the power of Christ to reconcile people groups.

I heartily, and without reservation, endorse ReNew Partnerships. I believe God has raised up this ministry for such a time as this. It is my prayer that ReNew's influence will only expand such that they influence the lives of thousands of ethnic students in dozens of cities. As God continues to grant ReNew success, the Church in America will greatly benefit.

Sincerely,

David K. Leedy
